

Little Women Callback Instructions

Congratulations on an excellent first round of auditions! You all should be very proud of your work; you are making our job very difficult.

Please read the following list carefully to see if you have been called back to sing/read. The list is organized by character; please prepare all the material (sides and musical cuts) for each role you are listed under. You may be called back for multiple roles. Whether or not you have received a callback, please be mindful of the feelings of others. Keep your words and actions gracious and kind, both online and in-person.

We may or may not hear you perform all the material for each role under which you are listed. Each person called back is guaranteed to perform at callback auditions, but we cannot guarantee which cuts/sides you will be asked to present. It is in your best interest to prepare all of the listed material found on the musical website. Also, please note that we may ask you to read or sing something on the spot for which we did not specifically call you, if we see or hear something different or exciting in the callbacks. Be prepared for surprises 😊

Lastly, we want to stress that your demonstrated acting ability/willingness to take risks will be a huge consideration as we strive to cast this show. We want to see you making choices with the given material, both sung and spoken. We are looking for nuance; for meaningful shifts in focus, pacing, facial expression, and tone color; for effective use of your body in ways appropriate to the given scenes; and for a demonstrated understanding of the characters and their motivations. We are not looking for cheesy “show choir” smiles (no offense to show choir intended), but for real communication. This is your opportunity; show us what you’ve got!

~Production Team

Please plan for callbacks to be Wednesday, November 29th and very likely also on December 1st 2:30-5:30pm. We will hopefully be able to shorten the list between the 29th and 1st. Please be prepared. TAKE THE INFORMATION ABOVE SERIOUSLY and work hard!
